This issue #141 of Lemon Curry, courtesy of its editor, publisher, mailer, and all-around good guy, Don Del Grande, 142 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, CA 94904-1339, phone (+1) 415 461-2692, but only 6 PM to 11 PM Pacific time (that's 0200-0700 GMT until April 3, after which it's 0100-0600), E-mail ddelgran@nyx.cs.du.edu (NOTE that orders sent to any other E-Mail address I may have - for example, 70017.714@compuserve.com - will not be accepted), starts off with a trivia question: one of those NCAA commercials shown during the men's basketball tournament mentions that they have 21 sports. What are they? (Answer below, somewhere.)

MONTY'S NEWS AND COMMENT is brought to you by...DIPDOMANIA, available sometime this summer on your friendly neighborhood Pay-Per-View cable channel

Hey, if ESPN can run a "Rotisserie League Baseball Pay-Per-View Special", why can't we have a Diplomacy PPV? Speaking of rotisserie leagues, it seems to me that it's taking the game away from being a team game like it's intended to be and turning it into a game of individuals. ("Yeah, the Giants lost...but Williams got 4 RBIs, so I came out all right." "I don't care if it is tied in the bottom of the ninth and there's a man on first; I need hits from this guy, so he better not bunt!")

DIPCON XXVII is coming - May 27-29 at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill, NC. It's not just Diplomacy (and variants - this year, Youngstown and Diplowin') any more; there will be tournaments in Pax Britannica, Titan, 1830, History of the World, Victory in the Pacific (what, a 2-player game?!), and miniatures events, plus the traditional Dixiecon "Sho' Fine" Barbecue. Keep in mind that only the Diplomacy tournament is for the North American championship (note that all Avalon Hill/Victory Games national championships, including Diplomacy, are held at AVALONCON).

However, anybody who expects to see me there will be out of luck: I'll be lucky if I'm at this year's ORIGINS in San Jose for more than one day, as I'm saving up to go to WORLD DIP CON (July 21-25) in England. I did manage to get a bargain-basement plane fare ($600 round trip on British Airways - my best guess is that it's a competitive fare against Virgin, which is starting flights to San Francisco this summer).

There should be a RUNESTONE POLL ballot included in here somewhere. Just in case you don't know what it is, this is the longest-running of the hobby's polls, first started in the 1970s by John Leeder in his 'zine Runestone (hence the name). To enter, give each 'zine and subzine you have seen more than once since last July, as well as each GM which you've played under, a rating from 0 to 10. The deadline is June 30.

TRIVIA QUESTION ANSWER: The 21 NCAA sports are baseball, basketball, cross-country running, fencing, field hockey, football, golf, gymnastics, ice hockey, lacrosse, rifle shooting, skiing, soccer, softball, swimming & diving, tennis, outdoor track & field, indoor track & field, volleyball, water polo, and wrestling. (Division I-A football is the only NCAA sport that does not have an "official" national championship, although national champions as determined by "a national wire-service poll or the national (football) coaches association" can receive awards from their school as per NCAA Constitution rule 16.1.4.3.1)

Speaking of which, it turns out that Notre Dame did win an NCAA Championship in a sport beginning with "F" - Fencing.

HISTORY OF THE WORLD "ONCE ON THIS ISLAND", TURN 1A - not much happens on these "A" turns, does it?

The following rules clarifications/corrections from Avalon Hill were published in Protozoan #137 and are in effect in this (and all other) games of HOTW:

1. Crusades get +1 to each die (for weaponry), face Difficult Terrain when attacking from the sea, and may only attack lands adjacent to previously conquered Lands.
2. Attacking from West Deccan into East Ghats face Difficult Terrain.
3. Disasters remove a Fortress. (As the Fortress rule is not being used in this game, this does not apply.)
4. Japan starts in Honshu; Fujiwara starts in Hokkaido.

Also, a clarification needs to be made to some of the Event Card listings: you cannot put more than one fort per land (and, as previously mentioned, Fortresses are not being used).

EMPIRES FOR TURN 1: (1) EGYPT - Bowen; (2) MINOANS - Goode; (3) INDUS VALLEY - Bailey; (4) BABYLONIA - Wilson; (5) SHANG DYNASTY - Hood; (6) ARYANS - Anderson

NOTE: Normally, events are played in the "A" portion of a turn, but in this case, nobody knew what Empires they were playing in Turn 1 until after Turn 1A. For Turn 1 only, Event cards to be played need not be declared until 1B, where they can be played. Your orders cannot mention more than two of your Event cards, because technically you must declare up to two Event cards to be played before you do anything else.

ORDERS NEEDED FOR TURN 1B: Event cards to be played, movement orders, and who to pass your Turn 2 Empire card to (since the order of passing is not known, you must name all six players in preference order). For this turn only, you may make moves conditional upon Event Cards declared (but not played, unless that player goes before you). If anybody objects to writing moves without knowing that Events other players have announced, I will stop the turn after Events are announced and continue Turn 1 in the next issue.

DEADLINE for TURN 1B is APRIL 23

RAILWAY RIVALS "GYPSY", ROUND TWO THREE 4 - I thought Round 2 went so well, we'd play it again in Round 3

CORRECTIONS: HICK, CAMELOT, and CCM were given incorrect amounts for town bonuses; CCM's build from Sheffield to Doncaster should have included paying 1 to ST-AR (Sheffield-B48) and 1 to GC (B48).

GC (Goode): (C55)-F56; (F56)-F57-G58, (B44)-E43-York; (E31)-C30-Newport

HICK (Hood): (C54)-Nottingham, (F17)-F15; (F15)-F12-G12-G11-H10; (H10)-Manchester-H6-G6-Bolton

ST-AR pays 1 to CAMELOT (I52, I55) and 1 to CCM (K62)

ROUND 5 BUILDS: 5 - 3 - 4

ROUND 4 TOTALS (see CORRECTIONS above)

GC:  $43 + 6 = 49$

HICK:  $37 - 1 = 36$

CAMELOT:  $56 + 6 + 3 = 65$

CCM:  $49 + 6 + 1 = 56$

ST-AR:  $41 - 3 = 38$

DEADLINE for ROUND 5 is APRIL 25

And now for the moment you've all been waiting for...the 1994

INTERNATIONAL DIPLOMACY TOURNAMENT RATINGS (IDTR) WORLD TOURNAMENT DIPLOMACY CHAMPION

What, again? Well, his two big wins (at EURO DIP CON and COUPE de FRANCE), plus a fourth in the French National Championship, puts him well in front of any challengers (even Hohn Cho, who won DIPCON and ORCCON last year, but neither had 50 participants).

DIP WARZ

All eyes (and other appropriate visual-sensing appendages) are transfixed on hyperdimensional receivers throughout the known universes...and we would like to welcome the newly-discovered universe at +16, -1, -12, the place pretty much covered with that "space dust" that makes everything look blue. The two sides prepare for what is billed as the ultimate battle, and a handful of the less-intelligent planets actually believe this. As I speak (well, type), Oboe-1 Caruso shouts out the last command to the rest of the Linoleum Falcon crew: "I want NO interruptions during this match, and who took the cheese puffs?"

Meanwhile, on the Diplomatic Empire flagship, (ZOT) apparently Lord Sacks Fifthavenue did notice that his hyperdimensional receiver's images had the slightest amount of green shift.

"WELCOME TO HYPER-RASSLE-MANIA CCLVI!" (That's 256 for you Roman-Impaired types.) "We have a packed lineup tonight, including no less than 27 championship matches; however, because of time constraints and the fact that the longer this thing runs, the lower our profits, there will be only one match, but since it's the one everybody bought this thing for, nobody really cares, right? Anyway, it's time for the main event, for the Omni-Universal Combat Hobby (OUCH) Unquestionable Absolute Everyweight Rassling Championship, and here comes the challenger, to the cheers of the crowd, or reasonable facsimile thereof as this match is so big that it has to be held on its own planet, Flex Lubejob!" However, when he's about halfway to the ring, the lights go out, and at about this time, three planets report that the audience got so loud with its cheers that their orbits were noticeably shifted, as it's time for the entrance of the  $n$ -time champion, which is another way of saying he's won  $n$  title matches as the challenger and lost  $n-1$  as the champion, the one and only, mainly because two of that ego won't fit on any planet, Incredibly Bulk Bogus!

Now Bogus is in the ring, the lights come up...and Lubejob is still halfway down the aisle, waiting for the lights to come up so he can see the path to the ring. DING "There's the bell - the referee counts 123456789 - Lubejob just makes it into the ring in time, but that sprint must have taken something out of him, especially as the Bulkster has no trouble picking him up and pretty much throwing him into the mat, and strikes a pose that has the orbiting press cameras flashing away to the point where the number of stars appears to have doubled, not to mention the stars Lubejob is still seeing. Now Flex has the nerve to try and get up and obstruct the views of all of those Bulkamaniacs, but he decides to be a nice guy and give everybody a close-up view by picking the Bulkster up and putting him in an airplane spin. Anti-sickness medication sales have taken an immediate 5% increase just by the fans thinking what he's going through, and those same stores are stocking up on aspirin because everybody is about to feel what Lubejob is going to do next...

Boy, <sup>you</sup> can really <sup>feel</sup> the ring <sup>shake</sup> after that slam!

Especially on those planets where the signal comes with Surround Sound. And what championship match would be complete without a patented Darkside Lie-Slam? Lubejob goes for a pin....one....two...."

1LOM chooses this moment to sound a full alert: "Warning! Cold beer levels approaching critical minimum point! Immediate cooler restocking required to achieve proper coldness before existing stocks run out!"

Oboe-1 Caruso, John Pole-O, and Rod Seaparter argue over who's going to get up and refill the fridge. My mistake; they're arguing over who's going to have to tell Princess Luscious to refill the fridge.

"That's EMPEROR Princess Luscious, and whoever so much as opens their trap won't have to worry about getting up for a long while, if you know what I mean!"

DipCon XXVII

DipCon XXVII
Chapel Hill, North Carolina
May 27-29, 1994

The Carolina Amateur Diplomats will again host Dipcon in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, in conjunction with the regional gaming convention DixieCon. DipCon is the North American Diplomacy Championships, a tournament which rotates among various sites in North America every year. DixieCon was the DipCon site in 1990, when the event drew its largest field of Diplomacy players since 1983. This year's event promises to be another outstanding Diplomacy tournament as participants from around North America and beyond travel to Dixie for the chance to become the 1994 North American Diplomacy Champion.

Of course, DipCon isn't just about playing Dip with the best players in the country. It's also about meeting hobbyists for the first time, seeing old friends, and partaking of the many side-events, including past DixieCon favorites such as Titan, 1830, United, Miniatures, Diplomacy variants, and others, both in tournament and open-gaming formats.

Below is a list of DixieCon/DipCon staff members, and the functions they are likely to perform. Early registrants will receive future DipCon News letters as they come up, with information such as tournament schedules, expected participants, scoring systems, travel aids, and other news on the upcoming event. Contact David Hood now to add your name to those already on that mailing list. Some of those already on the list in addition to the staff members include: Gary Behnen, Larry Peery, Kevin Kozlowski, Andy Marshall, Buz Eddy, Richard Weiss, Tom Johnston, Brad Wilson, Michael Gonsalves, Tim Snyder, Mark Brush, Morgan Gurley, Dan Sellers, Bill Hunter, Robin Barbehenn, Scott Cameron, Stven Carlberg, Jason Bergmann, Pete Fuchs, Mark Murray, Stephen Shields, Rex Martin, Jim Falling, Tom Mainardi, Mickey Preston, Michael Quist, Mark Franceschini, Dan Mathias, Ken Mathias, Jim Yerkey, Mike Nangle, Fred Davis, David Wang, Fred Hyatt, Melinda Holley, Mark Fassio, Jamie McQuinn, and all the local NC gamers who traditionally show up at DixieCon.

GM POLL

You may rate any GM under whom you played any postal or e-mail game since July 1, 1993 for long enough to judge him or her fairly. Only North American GMs are eligible, but anyone may vote. List GMs alphabetically by name (not zine). Rate each GM from 0 (the worst) to 10 (the best)—no fractions, please. GMs may not rate themselves. Do not vote for me.

For the main lists (zines, subzines, and GMs) send 50 cents, two 29 cent U.S. stamps, or an issue of your zine in which you publish a ballot. Check here ☐ for lists in order of finish or here ☐ for lists in alphabetical order. For the Poll publication, send $5.00 or more and check here ☐. Last year's publication was 74 pages long. It contained main lists, articles, statistical analysis, and lots more! Thanks for your donations; they really help.

SUBZINE POLL

A subzine is a regular section of a zine which is (a) edited by someone other than the zine editor(s), or (b) edited by the zine editor(s), but devoted to a specific hobby service. Any subzine of a North American zine is eligible. The other instructions are the same as those for the Zine Poll.

RUNESTONE POLL CONTEST

Guess the Zine Poll winner—the prize is a travel Diplomacy board with magnetic pieces. To be eligible you must vote in the Poll and correctly guess the winning zine; I will pick the contest winner at random from the set of eligible entrants. The names of the winner and any other eligible entrants will be published in the Poll publication.

To enter, print your address neatly: _____

The zine you think will win:

THE FIVE MOST DANGEROUS WORDS ON THE INFORMATION SUPERHIGHWAY:
"MY NAME IS DAVE RHODES"

Just when you thought "junk mail FAXes" were the last straw comes the "Internet Pyramid Scheme". For those of you not familiar with Internet, one of its features is its "newsgroups", a set of about 2000 different topics to which computer users send, or "post", items of interest. (For example, the group "rec.sport.pro-wrestling" has any number of comments on how Wrestlemania X went, while "alt.fan.ren-and-stimpy" will contain comments on how the show has gone downhill fast since R&S's creator left.)

Occasionally, a large number of newsgroups will have the same article, titled "MAKE MONEY FAST", and invariably it starts with "My name is Dave Rhodes". It then goes on to tell Dave's story of how he was laden down with bills but now he has more money than he knows what to do with, and it's "100% legal". At the end of his remarks is a list of ten people; send $1 to the person at the top and - this is the "legal" part - ask that person to send you his "address list". Since he is providing a service, this is no longer an "illegal pyramid scheme". Then, make five copies, put your name at the bottom, move the other names up one (removing the name at the top), and post them to five new newsgroups or send them to five people. Even if a small fraction of the people respond, you'll still make thousands of dollars. (Somebody tried this in the hobby a few years ago.)

PROBLEM: Despite the claim that "these people are providing a service", since it's obvious that the address lists aren't actually used for anything, this is ILLEGAL, and anyone involved is subject to anything from a slap on the wrist (if caught soon enough) to fines and/or imprisonment (if masterminding one of these things). Besides, there is NO guarantee that you will see ANY money. Any guarantees can be disproven using the following theory: assume all money that changes hands goes through the Internet Bank. Since every dollar that goes in immediately comes out, the total amount that goes in equals the amount that goes out. If everybody makes money, everybody must take more money out than they put in - but this is impossible if the total put in equals the total put out.

You want money? Ask the people at "rec.gambling"...
